

LOOKING TO THE NEW YEAR:

Above & Beyond

Soaring 100 feet above Kensington's skyline with spectacular fireworks, The Roof Gardens are the ideal place to see in 2013, says NATALIE BOLLU

AMID 1.5 ACRES OF beautiful gardens high above London's rooftops, see in the New Year in style at The Roof Gardens. Upon entrance, every guest will be welcomed with complimentary cocktails and champagne (as befitting a night of celebrations). A canapé reception and a seasonal winter BBQ will then be served by the banqueting team. The mouth-watering selection of delicacies on offer ensures that everyone will be fuelled enough to dance until dawn. A DJ and a live dance percussion in the Tudor Gardens marquee will provide the soundtrack to your night; step outside at midnight as fireworks scatter over Kensington's skyline and mark the end of 2012. Even after the clock strikes midnight, capture the evening's most unforgettable (and silliest) moments in the photo booth. A print to take home and share with friends and family is also complimentary. As the end of the celebrations draw near, breakfast-themed canapés will be served from 3am for those who need to be rejuvenated.

In 2012 The Roof Gardens was the first club to be awarded Best Live Music Venue at The London Club Awards 2012 and is hoping to build on the success of last year where it enjoyed two sell-out seasons of its winter Live Music Programme. ■
